LE MAS CANDILLE OFFERS LUXURY FOR LESS THROUGH AUCTION

POSTED 02 JUNE 2009

Beautiful and newly renovated Relais & Chateaux hotel Le Mas Candille is marking the launch of its six brand-new suites in July with 'Suite Dreams' - a reverse auction that started yesterday. Potential guests are invited to bid the price they are willing to pay for a night in a new suite, be it 1, 10 or 100 Euros. When the auction closes on 1 July, the lowest bidder will win an overnight stay for the exact price they suggested. But be warned: you can only place one bid, and it has to be unique - no one else can have made a bid for the same amount... Email your bid - in Euros and cents - to auktion@lemascandille.com along with a contact name, address and telephone number.

BMI OPENS INTERNATIONAL LOUNGE AT HEATHROW

POSTED 02 JUNE 2009

BMI has opened a new international lounge at Heathrow Terminal 1 for its Business Class, Diamond Club and Star Alliance customers. The lounge is split into several areas which include: The Study, with a boardroom-style table and free Wi-Fi; The Local, with a horseshoe-shaped leather-upholstered bar, and The Cafe, which is centred around an Aga and where hot soup and food is available around the clock. Following on from BMI's recent luxury initiatives which include chauffeur drive and premium check-in, where travellers are only required to arrive 30 minutes prior to departure, from 1 July the lounge will offer BMI club members the option to have their flight meal prior to boarding the plane.

RITZ-CARLTON LAUNCHES 'DECKHOUSES' ON GRAND CAYMAN

POSTED 01 JUNE 2009

Ritz-Carlton Grand Cayman has just launched a new project building 19 five-bedroom, five-bathroom gated family homes, each on a private island with full access to the services and amenities of the neighbouring hotel. Due for completion this year, the villas are built for holidaymakers who wouldn't mind having the support of a butler while at their holiday home. 'Our goal is to capture the essence of authentic Caribbean living within a safe, affluent and cosmopolitan setting,' says Michael Ryan, owner and developer of The Ritz-Carlton Grand Cayman. 'In doing so, we are bringing to life our vision for the ultimate, exclusive island experience, giving home owners the best of the best.'

ANGSANA LAUNCHES PERSONAL SHOPPING SERVICE IN MARRAKECH

POSTED 26 MAY 2009

Angsana Riads Collection Morocco has just launched a personal shopping service in Marrakech, giving you a chance to tour the medina's labyrinth-like souks with a guide. Laetitia Trouillet, who is fluent in English and French, has a great little black book containing the best addresses in the city, whether you are looking for fashion or antiques, and she can also help negotiate prices. Rates vary from 170 Euros for a four-hour session to 250 Euros for a full eight-hour day, based on two people inclusive of transport and hotel transfers. Additional people can join the trip for 30-50 Euros, and reservations can be made by telephone and online.
